

Spring 2023 Econ Tutor List

NAME	E-MAIL	YEAR	Available Econ Tutoring Courses	STATEMENT FOR TUTORING
Barone, Victoria	mvbarone@ucla.edu	6 th yr	103, 11	Victoria Barone has four years of experience as a TA in Economics. She is organized, patient and explains economic concepts clearly. She has won the Outstanding Performance in the Shift to Remote Learning Award in Winter and Spring 2020. She can tutor one-on-one or small groups via Zoom. She is fluent in English and native in Spanish. Victoria only tutors UCLA undergraduate students.
Batista, Julian	julian_jab@hotmail.com	6 th yr	1, 2, 11, 41, 101, 102, 106D, 106G, 106M, 107, 111, 121, 122, 130, 160, 161, 164, 170	In Argentina, I've worked as a graduate and undergraduate instructor and TA for several courses at different universities. At UCLA, I've been a TA of Econ 11, 106F, 106P, 201A and 414 and I've been an instructor of Econ 1. Tutoring will be held via Zoom.
Cho, Sungwoo	chosw13@g.ucla.edu	5 th yr	11, 101	I am a fifth-year PhD student with many years of teaching experience, especially on microeconomics. I speak English and Korean fluently and am available to tutor on Zoom. I can help you with problem sets, prepare for exams and/or understand course material better.
Coblin, Alex	alex.coblin@gmail.com	5 th yr	1, 11, 101, 102, 103	I am a fifth-year PhD student specializing in applied microeconomics. I have previously TA'ed for Econ 11 and have experience teaching online. I am available to tutor over Zoom for most undergraduate economics classes, providing students with recordings of sessions. Additionally, I will provide students with clear explanations and examples of economic concepts. As a tutor, I will work with students on practice problems and develop study techniques in order to master the material and prepare for exams.
Fabrizi, Domenico	domenicofabrizi@g.ucla.edu	5 th	1, 11	Domenico is a 5th year PhD candidate with ten years of experience tutoring and TAing undergrads in microeconomics. He is a TA awardee (at UCLA), and can teach both in person or on zoom. He is tutoring for Econ 1 and Econ 11. Domenico is fluent in English and Italian. He only tutors UCLA students.
Fiedler, Filipe	filipefiedler@g.ucla.edu	1 st yr	1, 2, 11, 41, 101, 102, 103, 104, 106F, 106G, 140, 143	I have long experience in tutoring and I was TA for various classes in Brazil during my undergraduate and master programs, especially for courses related to Micro and Econometrics. I also have a strong background in Math, being one of the winners of the Brazilian Olympiad of Math and receiving the prize from the Brazilian president. Languages: English, Portuguese, Spanish. Can also tutor Python and Matlab
Jou, Ariadna	ariadnajou@ucla.edu	6 th year	1	Ariadna Jou is a 6th year PhD candidate with nine years of experience tutoring and TAing undergrads in different courses, specifically in microeconomics. She is a TA awardee, and can teach both in person or on zoom. She is only tutoring for Econ1.
He, Bangyu	bangyuhe@g.ucla.edu	3 rd yr	102, 106F	I TAed ECON 102 for three consecutive quarters with overall evaluations around 8. I speak English and Mandarin. I am happy to tutor in person or over zoom.
Kim, Tim	kgr0427@g.ucla.edu	5 th yr	1, 2, 41, 101, 103	Tim Kim has four years of experience tutoring math and econ at Stanford University, specifically into econ and econometric classes. He is eager to help students not only understand materials, but also solve different problems. He prefers to meet at UCLA or in Westwood.
Kuo, Calvin	ckuo0127@gmail.com	5 th yr	1, 2, 11, 41, 103	Calvin Kuo has experience tutoring Econ 11 and Econ 41. As an undergraduate, he double majored in economics and mathematics and has the resources to not only help you expand your quantitative skillset, but to also develop a stronger intuition behind economic concepts. He was a former RA at the Federal Reserve Bank in Boston, and can assist any STATA issues as well. Genuinely interested your progress, he is a patient individual who will devote his time to ensure that you understand the material. Calvin is a native English speaker who is bilingual in Mandarin. Willing to conduct tutoring sessions via zoom or facetime

Spring 2023 Econ Tutor List

Leal, Felipe	lealfelipe@gmail.com	2 nd yr	1	I have previously been a TA for the undergraduate level: econ 1, introductory macroeconomics, introductory microeconomics, macroeconomics I, macroeconomics II, macroeconomics III, political economy, and for the graduate level: macroeconomics I, macroeconomics II, international economics and Trade. Some of them taught in English and others in Spanish. Available for virtual and/or in person tutoring.
Lee, James	jlee13931@g.ucla.edu	2 nd yr	41, 103, 104	Hi! I have experience teaching and tutoring for almost 10 years now. I have TA'd at UCLA for Econ 104, tutored for SMC macroeconomic courses, and TA'd and graded at UChicago for calculus and statistics courses. It can be calculus, statistical analysis, or coding in R/matlab- I'll do my best to make sure you learn the concepts for yourself. Preferably in person, or available on Zoom/other video conferencing, and feel free to reach out even if you are financially constrained.
Leepipatpiboon, Pat	patchl@ucla.edu	4 th yr	2, 11, 41, 102, 106V	Pat has a previous experience being a TA for ECON 2, 41, 97 102 and 106V. She is available both in person or via Zoom.
Molligo, Patrick	pmolligo@gmail.com	3 rd yr	41, 103, 104	I study applied microeconomics with an emphasis on labor and economic history. Before UCLA I was a research assistant at the Federal Reserve in Washington, D.C. where I also taught a course on data analysis using R. I'm happy to meet in person, on zoom, and in groups.
Navjeevan, Manu	mnavjeevan@g.ucla.edu	5 th yr	1, 2, 41, 101	As a tutor I hope to help students gain intuition for the subject as well as develop the quantitative skills needed for economics coursework.
Ozturk, Fatih	f.ozturk@ucla.edu	5 th yr	2, 11, 41, 101, 102	I have 6 years of experience as a teaching assistant. I can help you develop economic intuition behind concepts and quantitative skills needed for economics classes. I am available to tutor over Zoom and in-person.
Palleja, Mariano Joaquin	nano.palleja@gmail.com	5 th yr	1, 2, 5, 11, 101, 102, 106F, 106M, 106V, 160	I'm a 5 th year Econ PhD student. I have 6 years of teaching experience, from macroeconomics to financial calculus, and from 70 people classroom to personalized classes. In UCLA, I taught Econ 1, 102, and 106V with overall evaluations around 8. I speak English and Spanish. Regarding methodology, my classes are result oriented (I want you to understand but mostly to excel in the exams), even though we can discuss any topic you are interested in. Given the outbreak of COVID-19, I am available through Zoom, Skype, or any other platform you might find convenient.
Perez, Daniel	danielrperez@g.ucla.edu	5 th yr	5, 101	I specialize in teaching Econ 1, Econ 5 and Econ 101. I have years of experience teaching all three classes, including being the head instructor for Econ 101 in Summer Session A. I have also previously tutored students in Undergrad and at UCLA. I primarily focus on teaching concepts and getting students to understand how to use the tools they're given to solve the problem. I am available both in person or via Zoom.
Righi, Gio	giovannirighi@bellsouth.net	5 th yr	1, 2, 11, 41, 101, 102, 103	I'm available to tutor all lower-division econ courses. I've tutored and taught for several years, and can help you with homework, exams, or study prep. Did undergrad at UGA; native English speaker.
Serrano, Joaquin	serranojqn@gmail.com	5 th	1, 2, 5, 11, 101, 103, 41, Stata	I am a second-year Ph.D. student, with undergrad and master's degrees in economics. I have 6 years of teaching experience, from introductory econometrics to labor economics. I am organized, patient and goal-oriented i.e. focused on making students succeed in their exams. I can tutor one-on-one or small groups. Also willing to tutor Stata. I speak English and Spanish. I have experience teaching electronically and am available to tutor over Zoom, Skype, or similar platforms.

Spring 2023 Econ Tutor List

Shinde, Sumit	sumitshide@ucla.edu	6th yr	1, 2, 11, 101, 103	I am an experienced tutor for all undergraduate economics courses. I love teaching economics and try to make the material as intuitive as possible.
Urbina Rodriguez, Robert Pablo	roburbina18@ucla.edu	1st	1, 2, 10P, 11, 41, 97, 101, 102, 103, 104, 106G, 140, 141, 142, 143, 160, 161	Robert has experience as a TA in Peru and Brazil in a variety of Economics courses. He is patient and will do his best to make sure you learn the economic concepts clearly for yourself. Tutoring lessons can be taught in Spanish (native), Portuguese, or English. He is also available for one-on-one or small groups via Zoom.
Watkins, Natasha	tashawatkins@gmail.com	4th yr	104	I am available to tutor Econ 104. Having previously being a TA for this class three times, I am very familiar with the course content and have received good feedback from students. I'm available to tutor over Zoom.
Wu, Angela	yingjiewu@ucla.edu	3 rd yr	1, 2, 11, 41, 101, 103, 106P	I have TAed for the courses listed and won the best TA award in the past. After undergrad, I worked at an economic consulting firm, and as a part-time job, I tutored for GRE and economic courses at another university. I'm fluent in English and Mandarin and happy to meet either on campus or on zoom.
Zhai, Jiayin	jiayinzhai@outlook.com	4th yr	41, 101	Jiayin has lots of TA experience for Econ 41 and 101 at UCLA. She is available to tutor via Zoom or in person on campus. She is especially good at explaining mathematical concepts in economics and helping students improve understanding of course materials. Please contact her through ucla email.
Zhang, Lucas	lucaszz@g.ucla.edu	6th yr	11, 41, 101	Lucas Zhang has four years of experience tutoring micro, macro, econometrics, and various math courses. He won the best TA award in the past. He completed his undergraduate education in economics and mathematics at UC Berkeley. That being said, as someone who has experienced UC undergraduate education firsthand, he understands your struggles and strives to help you master necessary tools to excel in your courses. Spring quarter tutoring will be done via Zoom.